Hope Needs More

Electric Power

—a Lot More

When 35 Eastern bankers and manufacturers toured southwest Arkansas last week they carefully avoided Hope, a fact duly noted by our citizens. The visitors saw El Dorado, Crossett, Camden, Arkadelphia, and Malvern, but not our town.

Of course one explanation is that this was a guided tour in the hands of Arkansas Power & Light Co., a private utility. Hope's water & electric plant is municipally owned and operated. There would be no point to a private company promoting a town with a municipal plant.

But this isn't the whole story. The tourists visited North Little Rock, adjoining the capital city, and North Little Rock like ourselves operates its own water & light plant.

The more probable explanation is that the guests came to Arkansas to see industry, and had to go where industry was, irrespective of who furnished its electricity.

Hope has comparatively little industrial accomplishment to show out-of-state men. We have possibilities, but not much in the way of achievement. For one thing, we are short on actual electric power, which is available to potential new industries; and for another, we know little about the fantastically low rates which industry demands and gets.

The Star supports, and always will, the principle that a city has the right to own and operate its own utilities. I have supported the Hope Water & Light Plant consistently. But the operation is open to criticism, and we will continue that criticism as the years go by, and our town blindly refuses to recognize how far it has fallen behind the rest of the country.

There are two difficulties at the local plant, for neither of which the management is responsible. The first is that Hope continues its plant as a direct operation of the political city government, when common sense dictates we should have set up a long-term commission with authority to spend money and make contracts designed to build up the total power pool available here.

The second difficulty is the city's persistent refusal to establish a standby power line connecting us with low-cost electricity generated on either federal government or private-power systems. It is uneconomical for Hope alone to take the $1-million or million-dollar gamble to set up isolated generators here in sufficient power to take care of new industry that might like to locate in our town or county. But the city, knowing this, refuses to take the alternate route—lying in to to where the big-time "juice" is.

I have reported, for several years in this column, that practically every municipal plant in the state of Mississippi has gone to interconnected power, either private, government, or both. This move has given the Mississippi towns abundant power at attractive rates, relieving their people at home, and attracting new industry to them.

There is no question here about sacrificing the municipal plant. The "municipal plant" is the city's control over distribution and billing, or the actual origin of the electricity so sold.

Every business man knows this. It's time the city as a whole woke up to it. They have industrial expansion in Mississippi, and retain their municipal plants, too—and it's disturbing to see our section of Arkansas falling behind in economic growth.

DAIRYMAN DIES

He was Samuel H. Borch, 62, president of the Arden Farms Co., which operates 48 dairy products plants in Washington, Oregon, California and Arizona. Borch was born in Russia and moved with his family to Winnipeg, Man. to enter the grain business. Later he founded an ice cream company in Seattle.

Churchill Names Six Additional Ministers

London, Oct. 30 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill named six more ministers in his new government today and then held his first cabinet meeting to deal with critical foreign and domestic problems.

Churchill, smoking one of his biggest cigars, entered 10 Downing street about 15 minutes before the cabinet session began. A crowd of about 500 persons, standing in the narrow street cheered.

London newspapers wondered, meanwhile, when the Tory chief would make his first domestic policy move.

Harry F. C. Crookshank, 58, minister of health and deputy leader of the house of commons;

The two junior ministers named were Patrick Buchanan-Hepburn, 50, as parliamentary secretary to the treasury, and Selwyn Lloyd, 47, minister of state for foreign affairs—the No. 2 man to Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in the foreign office.

MacMillan's first job will be to work toward the Tory target of 300,000 new homes a year. Lord Leathers, former minister of war transport, will deal with policies of the departments of transport, fuel and power. Ministers will be appointed later to head the three departments.

Churchill named Eden and seven other key cabinet members on Saturday. There were unconfirmed reports that the prime minister would resign today, a permanent military effect until congress approves a detailed plan. Several lawmakers have predicted a hot fight over the enabling legislation.

Yesterday, members of the training commission said at a news conference that if congress could be ready to take in the first 18-year-old trainees by June or July.

Johnson, chairman of the military preparedness subcommittee and an assistant Democratic senate leader, said in a statement from his office that "a victory is now insight in the struggle for a realistic military manpower policy for the United States."

In these troubled times," he said, "I believe that legislation to establish a permanent military manpower policy should have the very highest priority."

"Final passage of the legislation will serve notice to the aggressors that America is ready to settle down for the long pull."

"I believe it will have a deterrent effect on aggression and, at the same time, will assure American young men of the fairest treatment that can be accorded them when they are faced by the grim necessity of carrying out their obligations to serve their country."

The express called editorially for an excess profits tax and a tax on speculative stock exchange profits to offset slashes in the purchase tax, which the paper demanded throughout the election campaign.

The strongly Conservative Daily Mail said the government's first job is to tackle "finance and food—or the kitty and the kitchen."

RED FACES

New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—Burn check cases rained on some 450 newcomers to the police force yesterday and caught them flatfooted. The checks were their own, their first paychecks from the city of New York. A mix-up in the city treasurer's office allowed them to be distributed without the necessary signature of the treasurer, Spencer C. Young.

Lions to Open Seal Sale Drive on November 1

More than 100 Arkansas Lions Clubs will open their fifth annual "Be Thankful You Can See" seal sale on November 1, John Henley, Forrest City, state chairman of the campaign announced.

Following an annual custom Governor McMath has proclaimed November as "Be Thankful You Can See" month in Arkansas.

"I issue this proclamation," the governor said, "with a feeling that I am taking part in a most worthy project. Any campaign which has as its aim the rehabilitation and training of hundreds of our adult fellow citizens and the prevention of blindness through work with our young future citizens certainly deserves careful consideration and assistance from all of us in Arkansas."

Coincident with the opening of the drive, Chairman Henley announced that W. C. Gentry, well known Hope man and Lions Club worker will be chairman of the campaign here.

To Urge Top Priority to UMT

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) said today he would urge that universal military training legislation be given top priority when congress returns next year.

The new national security training commission urged Sunday that UMT be started as soon as possible. The commission was established by congress when it passed, at a session just ended, legislation approving the general idea of UMT. The commission was set up to plan UMT.

Under the law, the senate and house armed services committees must go right to work on the commission's UMT plan after the session begins. UMT cannot go into effect until congress approves a detailed plan. Several lawmakers have predicted a hot fight over the enabling legislation.

Yesterday, members of the training commission said at a news conference that if congress could be ready to take in the first 18-year-old trainees by June or July.

Johnson, chairman of the military preparedness subcommittee and an assistant Democratic senate leader, said in a statement from his office that "a victory is now insight in the struggle for a realistic military manpower policy for the United States."

Member of Bataan March in Korea

Seattle, Oct. 30 (AP)—Mrs. Eugene Corder says her husband, a survivor of the Bataan death march, is in Korea by mistake and she wants him back.

In a letter to the Post-Intelligencer yesterday, Mrs. Corder said:

"I knew it would happen. He isn't in condition for army life any more and never will be. He took too much while in the service before."

She said her husband, Cpl. Eugene Sturant Corder, 31, weighed only 80 pounds when freed after 3½ years as a prisoner of war of the Japanese.

"He was wounded and had received the Purple Heart medal before being taken prisoner," she wrote. "When he was discharged in 1946, he was given 60 per cent disability."

He stayed in the reserves and was called into active service last November.

Mrs. Corder continued: "After several months hospitalization he was suddenly ordered overseas. His letters indicate he has been front-line duty."

"My husband and I have both protested to every official possible. All we ever get for an answer is that 'there must have been some mistake.'"

Army sources were not available for comment.

Trapped Mother Sees Husband and Son Die

Port Townsend, Wash., Oct. 30 (AP)—A mother, trapped upside down for 20 hours in a wrecked plane with her dead husband, told last night of watching her son die as help approached.

The mother, Mrs. Maye Mortensen, 23, and her daughter, Kathleen, 5, were pulled alive but seriously injured from the jammed-up wreckage.

Her husband, Richard G. Mortensen, 33, was killed outright in the crash, and the son, Russell, 8, died many hours later. Officials said they believed the boy suffered a skull fracture.

The Seattle family crashed Sunday night on a wooded ridge near here while returning in their private plane from a visit to Bellingham 80 miles to the north. They were not located until yesterday afternoon.

"I knew Dick was dead," said Mrs. Mortensen from a hospital bed. "But Rusty lived for a long time as we lay there. I believe he died just a little while before the rescuers came. Perhaps if they had come sooner he would have lived."

Little Kathy's first words as she was taken from the plane wreckage were: "If I could just down." She was trapped the entire time in a bent-over standing position.

Mrs. Mortensen said visibility was good before the accident. "We were just going along and suddenly I heard a big bang," she said. "That's the last thing I remember before we hit."

Officials said they believed the "bang" was when a wingtip hit a tree. The plane continued on a few hundred yards, cut a swath through trees and landed upside down in dense woods.

The wingtip was found by a farmer yesterday and the plane was located some time later. Rescuers virtually had to tear the plane apart to reach the victims. Two hours were required to free them.

"I was conscious as we lay in the plane all jammed together and unable to move," said Mrs. Mortensen. "I was aware of the fact that I was lying there and I kept trying to get out but I could hardly move at all. My foot was numb and I kept trying to wiggle my toes to keep it warm."

Mrs. Mortensen suffered a left arm fracture and a severe scalp wound. Kathy had a broken right ankle and a cut tendon in her right hand. Both she and her mother also suffered extensive bruising. They also suffered from shock and temperatures below 40 degrees.

Hospital attendants said their condition was not critical but was "worse than fair."

Tax Liens Filed Against Gambler

Milwaukee, Oct. 30 (AP)—The federal government says a gambler Sidney Brodson, who told a senate committee he bet between a half million and a million dollars and owes on income he failed to report.

Tax liens in this amount were filed in federal court yesterday against Brodson and his wife, Marion. The sum represents additional income tax, interest and penalties from 1945 through 1950.

An official said the alleged unreported income could be assumed to be gambling profits.

In an appearance last March before the Kefauver crime investigating committee, the suave and polished Milwaukeean testified he had made a net profit of about $50,000 on his gambling in the past seven years. He said his betting was principally on sports events.

Brodson last night declined to comment on the liens.

Chickenpox Hits Pulaski County

Little Rock, Oct. 30 (AP)—The state health department today reported an outbreak of chickenpox among lower grade pupils in one Pulaski county rural school.

Fifty-one new cases of the disease were reported in Pulaski county last week, all in the area of the Oak Grove school, about 10 miles north of Little Rock on highway 65.

School authorities said virtually all first, second and third grade pupils in the school have been absent.

The school has not been quarantined.

Other cases of chickenpox were reported from Johnson, Marion and Phillips counties, bringing the state total for the week to 73. That figure compared with 10 cases for the week before.

The health department also said in its weekly morbidity report that there were 14 new cases of polio in Arkansas last week, compared to 10 for the previous week. The year's total now stands at 385.

Entertainment at the carnival will be the best ever presented. There will be "Skit" singing, and fun for all.

The PTA of Spring Hill will sponsor the carnival with the help from home room mothers and teachers.

Heroism of Engineer Saves Plane

New Orleans, Oct. 30 (AP)—An airline carrying 40 persons came down safely last night after getting instructions 400 miles away for lowering a jammed landing gear.

The Chicago and Southern Constellation circled Moisant International airport for two hours and 13 minutes while Flight Engineer Ed Acree of Memphis, Tenn., worked on the landing gear.

The maintenance department there broke out a diagram of the plane, diagnosed the trouble, and teletyped the airport control tower here instructions how to lower the wheel manually. The tower radioed Acree.

Wiggling through a narrow emergency hatch in the plane's belly, Acree cleared away stacks of heavy luggage, squeezed through another emergency compartment, and shut off a hydraulic gear that controlled the landing mechanism. Then he lowered the wheel by a manual lever.

Safe grounded, 35 passengers, many with tear-filled eyes, praised Acree and the four other crew members.

James R. Mary of New Orleans said, "The crew is really to be commended. They didn't tell us anything. But we knew the landing gear was stuck."

Mervin LeBlanc of Rochester, N. Y., said Acree kept going down in the belly of the plane and coming back. "There wasn't any smile on his face. He didn't have to tell us it wasn't fixed."

"We were all scared silly," said William Epperson of Covington, Ohio, added, "We were among those scared to death."

Said Ben Sugarman of San Francisco: "We were all on the hot spot. A Catholic fellow started praying. A Suggman, a Jew, said he knelt down beside the Catholic and started praying, too."

Standing in the airport's lobby, Sugarman pulled out a thick wallet thumbed through a batch of $1,000 bills, and said:

"I thought on that plane how I wished I had left this money at home when it looked as if we were going to crash."

A distinguished looking elderly woman brushed aside newsmen on her way to the airport bar. "Give me a double scotch," she said.

Capt. J. G. Enos of Memphis, the first pilot, asked reporters, "Gee, fellows, don't play this thing up too big."

Enos said after the lights on his control panel indicated the left wheel was down, he flew over the control tower at tree top level and a big spot light was played on the plane. The tower radioed Enos the wheel was down and he circled the field once more and then made a perfect landing.

C. and S. officials said the plane had enough fuel to stay up another two and a half hours.

Other members of the crew were Jack Lewis, co-pilot, and two stewardesses, Miss Doris Daniel and Miss Betty McGinley, all of Memphis.

Clow Students Make Honor Roll

12th Mae Ola Young, 11th Sam Stuart, Velma Woods; 8th Billy D. Woods; 7th James Odell White, 6th Aizine Johnson, Daisy L. Draper, Leon Gipson; 5th Elvira Cash, Clarie May, William E. Atkins, Susie M. Rodgers; 4th Willie R. White, Robert Thurman, Gloria D. May, Velma R. Stewart.

NOT SO WISE OWL

New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—"Who?" said the owl in a sixth floor Bronx apartment last night.

A society agent caught the bird, figured it to be a fugitive from the nearby Bronx zoo.

On a Halloween bender, perhaps.

Third Atomic Blast Set Off in Nevada

Las Vegas, Nev., Oct. 30 (AP)—The third atomic detonation in the atomic energy commission's current test series—a bright glow in the sky northwest of here—went off at 7:01 a. m. (PST) today.

It was the largest of the present series, which has included a baby blast from a tower and a slightly more spectacular drop from a plane.

About a minute after the flash a column of mushrooming cloud literally shot up into the sky.

The light itself was white, much like a giant camera flash bulb. There was a light purple tinge at the start.

There was no shock felt in Las Vegas within the time limit necessary for sound waves normally to travel that 7 miles from here.

That would indicate that it was considerably less severe than several during a series last February, two of which broke windows in Las Vegas.

Presumably today's, like last Sunday's, was a drop from an airplane. The airplanes between here and Albuquerque, N. M., were ordered clear of other craft during the night.

It was learned yesterday that seismicographic equipment has been set up in Las Vegas to measure shock waves. Neither of the first two blasts was felt here, although sound waves of the second detonation Sunday carried as far as 22 miles in other directions.

The first contingent of an expected influx of high level government observers included Senators Zaleski, E. E. (D-Mont.) and George W. Malone (R-Nev.) and Reps. H. Carl Anderson (R-Minn.) and J. Lee (D-Tenn.). None of them is on the joint congressional atomic energy committee.

Among the top ranking military men on the scene were Brig. Gen. Clare Armstrong of Camp Stewart, Ga., and Brig. Gen. James R. Pierce, Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

The military observers included a specially selected card of 200 officers and men, chosen by the army from various posts throughout the nation.

Other invited observers from the navy, marine corps and air force also jammed Camp Desert Rock, 33 miles from the Yucca Flat test site. It was estimated that nearly 2,000 servicemen and officers arrived in a 24 hour period to swell the camp's population, temporarily, to almost 7,000.

Atomic tests involving troops are expected Thursday or later by which time members of the atomic energy commission, including Chairman Gordon Dean, should be on hand. Defense Secretary Robert Lovett and top Pentagon officers also have been invited.

DOROTHY DIX

Make Peace Now

Dear Miss Dix: Why is it that people always repent too late? I know an elderly man who recently lost his wife. He was heartbroken and can talk of nothing but how lovely she was, what a wonderful mother, etc. What he has forgotten apparently, is that he made the poor thing's life one continuous round of misery. He was bad-tempered, profane, stingy, even abusive. Perhaps that is why there are so many lonely old men and women in the world. In youth they were so selfish, temperamental, and miserly they couldn't keep friends. Do you agree?

EMMA J.
Answer: Your friend's case is, unfortunately, not unusual. Of times the loudest moaners at a wake are those who through ill treatment contributed most to the deceased's passing. Neglected children can weep torrents of tears over the grave of a parent for whom they hadn't bought a gift in months and for whom they seldom had a spare moment or kind word.
No greater peace can come to a soul to put a loved one to his eternal rest, secure in the knowledge that in life he knew no default of love or devotion.
Don't Wait
Why wait, readers, for regrets until it is too late to ease your own conscience? Life is uncertain; who knows when the last chance for atonement will come?
Begin now to put yourself at peace with the world. Make up petty quarrels with your neighbors, be reconciled to members of your own family to whom you have not spoken perhaps for years. If the distance between you is too great for a meeting, a telephone call or letter will work wonders. Be kinder at home, look for reasons behind your mate's irritability. Illness or business troubles he does not want to bring home may lurk behind the scowl that greets you. Be patient with him.
Husbands, be more considerate of your wives. As full and satisfying as the job of bringing up children is, it can also become very wearying. Money for a new hat or piece of furniture, an unexpected trip to the movies, a few flowers bought just because you love her will send the spirit of any wife soaring to the skies.
Remember the old folks at home! Don't let them get lost in the shuffle while you concentrate all efforts on the generation you are raising. In a few years you'll be in the old guard yourself.
Take your charity a little farther afield from home. Don't be sparing to be kind to those about you. To be at peace with the world is a great gift, and you can bestow it upon yourself!

Dear Miss Dix: I am 23 and have been going with a gentleman, 31. He is in love with me, treats me with every consideration and is very kind. He wants to marry, but although I have been seeing him for a month, I am not in love with him. I appreciate his thoughtfulness, and admire him, but do not love him. Should I give him a chance to win my love by continuing to go out with him, forget him or marry him just for his good points?
R. P.
Answer: First of all, a month is scarcely time to become acquainted, much less to fall in love. Love does not always come at first sight, sometimes it takes quite a bit of coaxing. Since your friend is endowed with so many admirable qualities, why not be frank with him? Tell him you haven't known him long enough to love him, but that you admire him and enjoy his company. If he is satisfied with the possibility of winning you, continue the friendship.

Dear Miss Dix: I have a girl friend who is very dear to me. My mother will not let me go to her home because several of her uncles have died of tuberculosis and her father is said to have it. My mother lets her come to my house (not too freely) and I can't tell my friend why I can't visit her. As I'm only 14 I like to have fun with girls my own age.
DORIS
Answer: In order not to judge the case too harshly, your mother should have a talk with your family doctor on the situation. If his conclusion agrees with mother's, why not tell your friend frankly why you cannot go to her home? Illness is something no one can help and your mother's concern for you certainly shouldn't be held against either of you.

Gable Having Divorce Trouble

Hollywood, Oct. 30 (AP)—If Clark Gable moves to Nevada, could his wife get alimony from him in California courts?
Especially since her passport lists her as a resident of Britain?
The actor raised these questions yesterday in an affidavit opposing Mrs. Gable's petition for an injunction to prevent him from getting a Nevada divorce.
Gable said he had taken numerous steps to become a legal resident of Nevada, where he has filed suit to divorce the former Lady Sylvia Ashley.
As a resident of Nevada, Gable contends, he is not subject to any ruling made by California courts. Mrs. Gable says he is still a resident of California.
Gable's affidavit said he is selling his home in suburban Encino, has paid a Nevada poll tax, has paid 10 per cent on the 3,000 acre Fleischmann ranch in Minden valley near Reno, and transferred his bank accounts to Reno and Carson City. He will continue, however, to make movies for a Hollywood studio.

Leader Knows of No Reds in Union

North Little Rock, Oct. 30 (AP)—The president of a union which Senator Eastland (D-Miss.) has reported he'll investigate for Red activities says he knows of no Communists in the organization.
John Gilmore, head of Local 98, of the Independent Distributive Processing and Office Workers Union, said here yesterday that all 37 members of the union had signed non-Communists affidavits.
"We have complied with all the rules and regulations for unions and if there's Red activity in the union, I don't know about it," added Gilmore.

Argentina Claims Atom Plant Near

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Oct. 30 (AP)—Argentina says she has successfully completed "big scale trials" at an isolated atomic energy plant and is nearing the development stage of an atomic reactor for industrial use.
A government communique from Dr. Ronald Richter, Austrian-born physicist in charge of Argentine atomic research, added that technical installations at Tucuman island in Nahuel Huapi lake, a 10,000-foot high spot in the Andes 750 miles southwest of Buenos Aires, will be made available to Argentine and foreign scientists and technicians within a short time.
The official statement, issued by President Juan D. Peron's office last night, did not say Richter's experiments had achieved an atomic explosion. Neither did it give any technical details about the "big scale trials," which it said were held Oct. 28. Neither official nor scientific sources offered immediate elaboration of the brief announcement.
Previous announcements have said Argentina had discovered ways of producing nuclear energy by a thermonuclear reaction — through the use of terrific temperatures applied to the cheapest kinds of materials.
(Some foreign scientists said then that the "thermonuclear" description seemed to indicate a reaction more in the nature of atomic fusion, such as U. S. physicists now are working on for the hydrogen bomb, rather than the earlier type of atomic fission developed for the atomic bomb.)
Since the first official announcement last March that Argentina was making atomic experiments, Peron and Richter have insisted the experiments were centered on the use of atomic energy for industrial purposes.

Louis Delays Plans for Retirement

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP) — Joe Louis' possible compromise settlement of income tax indebtedness appeared delayed indefinitely today because of his reluctance to announce his retirement from the ring.

John T. Jarecki, collector of internal revenue for the northern Illinois district, said that a compromise is possible if Louis intends to quit fighting and prove inability to pay his full back tax.

"You can't get blood out of a turnip," Jarecki said. "The glamour is gone out of Louis now. He's through as a boxer."

Jarecki declined to disclose the amount owed by the former heavy-weight champion for 1947 and 1948. Unverified reports were that return trip home she spent a few days in St. Louis, Mo.

Frank E. Hicks of Camden spent the weekend with relatives and friends.

The 37-year-old Brown Bomber, flattened in the eighth round by Rocky Marciano in Madison Square Garden Friday night, decided not to announce his retirement plans yesterday. He called off a scheduled press conference. Louis is to leave New York on Nov. 1 on a boxing tour of Japan and will not announce any positive decision until his return.

Jones said Louis has paid his taxes for 1945 and 1946 and has been depositing substantial amounts on his settlement offer since he started his comeback in September, 1950.

THANKS to telephone users in Hope

The change was completed last Saturday night. Fast, accurate dial telephones are now on the job to serve you.

Dial service is the climax of a telephone expansion and improvement program for Hope that has cost $400,000 gross. Now Hope enjoys one of the finest and most modern telephone systems in the country.

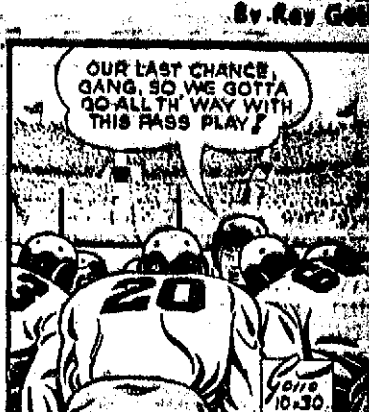

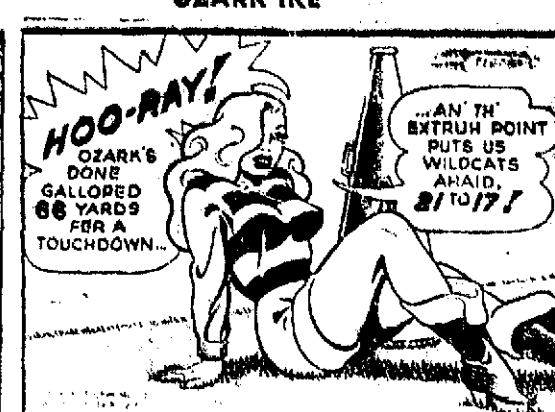

A MESSAGE TO THOSE WAITING FOR SERVICE
 Hope's new dial switching equipment can handle many more telephones than we now have connected to it. But before we can provide service for all waiting customers, we need more wire and cable to connect new telephones with the dial equipment in the telephone office.

We are placing and splicing new telephone cable into service just as fast as we can get it from the factories.

You may be sure we will connect your new telephone just as soon as the necessary cable facilities are available in your neighborhood.
